County Voters To Elect 22nd State's Attorney

STATE'S ATTORNEYS: Saline county tomorrow will be electing its twenty-second state's attorney since election of the officer began back in 1872, and of this group but four have served in more than one term of office.

Up to 1849 state's attorneys were appointed by the General Assembly. They were elected by the circuit district electorate up to 1872. Then election by the county voters was begun.

The four who have served in more than one term are James M. Gregg, Albert W. Lewis, Glen O. Jones and K. C. Ronalds.

Gregg, the first state's attorney elected by the Saline county voters, was re-elected in 1876. He and Jones, elected at a special election in 1951 and again at the regular election in 1952 are the only two who were re-elected to successive terms.

Albert W. Lewis was elected in 1888 and again in 1904. Ronalds was elected to the full term 1944-48 and was named in January of this year to serve as state's attorney until the vacancy could be filled by election. This election will end Mr. Ronalds' tenure in office as John W. Biggers, Harrisburg Republican, and Robert V. Wilson, Eldorado Democrat, are the two candidates.

After tomorrow's winner is known and he takes office, the county will have had seven state's attorneys during the past 15 years.

Motorist Loses $161 in Gallatin County Holdup

A daring daylight holdup late Friday on Route 1 near Omaha was reported to Sheriff Millard Holloway of Gallatin county. The victim, Robert Delmar Rushing, about 36, of Marion, Ky., told the sheriff he was robbed of $161.

Holloway said that Rushing was driving south on Route 1 and was arriving at a bridge just out of Omaha about 5 p. m. when a man stepped out on the highway with a red flag and flagged him to a stop.

The man quickly opened the car door, jumped in and pointed a revolver at Rushing, telling him to drive on.

At the Routes 1-13 intersection the bandit made Rushing drive on through the stop sign and forced him to turn off onto a gravel road leading to an old salt well near Saline river bridge.

Another accomplice standing by the highway at the gravel road was picked up and the car went on down this road to a point where there were three men waiting around an auto.

There the five men took his $161. Two of the men, he told Holloway, drove off in his car, leaving him there with three men and the other auto.

About a half hour later the two returned with his car, which had been in a wreck, he said, but was still in running order.

The bandits, he said, gave him his car back and told him to go. They were still standing along the road when he left, he said.

The men, Rushing said, were not masked, and most of them wore T-shirts and khaki pants.

Group Tells of Beatings to Get Confessions

Charges May Affect Red China
Hopes of Joining UN

TACHIKAWA AIR BASE, Japan — Charges that 11 American airmen were tortured and beaten by the Communist Chinese probably will go before the United Nations, informed sources said today.

The world body will attempt to determine to what extent the alleged brutal treatment was used to wring confessions from the airmen, the sources said.

The charges may affect Red China's hopes of joining the United Nations, the sources added.

The airmen, freed by the Reds last week after more than two years in prison, told of their torture, beating and solitary confinement at a press conference Sunday.

In Geneva, members of the Red Chinese delegation meeting with U. S. representatives denied the charges and said they were "sheer fabrication."

Want Hometown Reunions

The men are to leave Tachikawa Air Base Wednesday for Travis Air Force Base, Calif., an Air Force spokesman said. The men have asked that their families not be brought to the west coast. They prefer to go home individually for reunions.

The airmen went through more rigorous physical examinations today to determine if their health suffered during their forced stay in Red China.

One of the men, Daniel C. Schmidt, of Redding, Calif., finally talked by telephone with his 21-year-old wife who remarried in the belief he was killed in Korea. The modern-day "Enoch Arden" refused to disclose details of the conversation about their tangled marital affairs.

Col. John Knox Arnold, leader of the airmen whose B-29 was shot down over North Korea in January, 1953, repudiated all statements and "confessions" wrung from the men by Communist physical and mental pressure.

He fought back tears as he told how the Reds treated him and his crew. His thin face twisted with emotion and his voice breaking occasionally, the Silver Springs, Md. flier admitted he gave the Communists military information under torture.

One "Confession" Exception

All the fliers except Maj. William H. Baumer, Lewisburg, Pa., said they made "confessions" of illegally invading Communist China and in some cases espionage.

Baumer said he was not forced to sign, apparently because of his physical condition. He was wounded in the foot when the B-29 was shot down and later frostbite added complications and the foot was amputated.

Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, of Missoula, Mont., navigator of the plane, vehemently insisted they were well south of the Yalu River on a leaflet dropping mission over North Korea when they were shot down.

Burglars Enter Eldorado Store

The Kroger store at Eldorado was broken into Saturday night by burglars who took out a piece of the roof, Sheriff William T. Barrett reported today. An unsuccessful attempt was made to open the safe.

Sheriff Barrett said the burglars got onto the roof in some manner, tore away a section of roofing and drilled enough holes in the wooden roof with a one-inch drill bit to push out a piece of the roof and descend into the store.

The burglary was discovered by an employee Sunday afternoon.

Officers were called and a check revealed that apparently nothing was taken. The combination was knocked off the safe and there was evidence an attempt was made to open the door with a chisel.

Barrett said some good fingerprints were taken.

Scientists Predict H-Bomb Will Be Harnessed for Peaceful Use

GENEVA —The first international congress on peaceful uses of atomic energy opened today with a dramatic prediction that man will harness the hydrogen bomb within 20 years and make available the limitless power of the sun itself.

And the United States announced that it is ready now to sell atomic fuel for use in peaceful research.

In Moscow, the Russians said they will start delivery of nuclear equipment to other Communist countries this year.

The two announcements underscored the vast strides already made in harnessing the atom and the limitless possibilities that lie ahead.

Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen here that the United States is ready to sell or lease enriched uranium—the stuff that runs atomic power plants—for research purposes.

The Atomic Energy Commission said a price has been set for $28 a pound for heavy water and $40 a kilogram for normal uranium metal and $25 per gram for enriched uranium.

The prediction that the vastly greater power of the hydrogen bomb will one day be harnessed was made by Dr. Homi J. Bhabha, distinguished Indian physicist who is president of the conference.

In a message to the opening session of the Congress, President Eisenhower reaffirmed the United States' determination to find ways by which "the miraculous inventiveness of man shall not be dedicated to his death but consecrated to his life."

Wife Who Killed Officer Mate, to Collect Benefits

SENDAI, Japan —Mrs. Romola Abidin who shot and killed her officer husband was informed unofficially today she will collect his government insurance, his back pay and a special "gratuity" from the Army.

The 26-year-old mother of three whose stateside home is Bayside, N. Y., was found innocent Sunday of premeditated murder in the Cherry Blossom Lane shooting of her warrant officer husband, Robert, 28, a helicopter pilot.

Army sources said she was expected to receive a $10,000 insurance policy, a special "gratuity" of about $2,000 awarded to dependents of soldiers who die "in line of duty," and his back pay.

In addition she is entitled to social security benefits and a Veteran's Administration pension. Army sources said the pensions probably would total about $250 monthly.

Attorneys for Mrs. Abidin said they did not know whether she would receive the entire $10,000 insurance because there was a possibility that Abidin's mother, Mrs. James Abidin of 175-56 Underhill Ave., Flushing, N. Y., was beneficiary to half the amount.

Although Abidin was killed at home and did not technically die in line of duty, an Army legal source said it was Army policy to interpret the gratuity matter "as broadly as possible."

A U. S. Army general court martial freed Mrs. Abidin after hearing that he forced her into sexual indecencies and threatened to kill their three children.

Missing Kansas City Woman Is Found Slain

Bound Body Is Discovered in Pasture Thicket

KANSAS CITY, Mo. —A grief-stricken husband said today he was sure that more than one sex fiend was involved in the murder of his young socialite wife whose unclothed and battered body was found Sunday in a pasture.

Automobile dealer William R. Allen Jr. said his pretty wife, Wilma, "was a reserved woman" but "would put up a real fight" against anyone trying to force his way into her automobile. He said he was sure it would have taken more than one man to subdue her.

A three-day search for the 34-year-old mother of two sons came to an end near Stanley, Kan., Sunday when two farmers looking for a lost cow stumbled on her bound body in a pasture thicket.

The spot where the body was found was 15 miles from her Kansas City, Mo., home and 23 miles from where she was last seen in a shopping district following a beauty shop appointment last Thursday. The death spot, 100 yards off U. S. Highway 69, also was only a few miles from where young Bobby Greenleaf was killed less than two years ago.

Body Badly Decomposed

Authorities said there was "several possibilities" to be explored in their search for the killer but wouldn't elaborate on that statement. They planned to compare blood samples from the body with those found in Mrs. Allen's blood-stained car when it was found abandoned under a viaduct near the Kansas City railroad yards Friday morning.

The body was so badly decomposed that a post mortem failed to determine whether she had been raped, and more extensive laboratory tests were to be made.

Death came from two bullets at the base of the skull, made either by a .38 or 45 caliber revolver, Johnson County Coroner Dr. David S. Long said. The bullets came out through the top of the skull.

Mrs. Allen had also been beaten on the head, Dr. Long said, but the blows were not hard enough to cause death. He said he covered the body "inch by inch" and took samples from under her fingernails for laboratory tests. Her knuckles were skinned and the body bore numerous scratches.

Neither the gun that killed Mrs. Allen, the empty cartridges nor the bullets have been found. Also missing were the victim's diamond wedding and engagement rings.

Arrested

Roderick Harris of Carrier Mills today was charged with driving while intoxicated and with illegal transportation of liquor in an information filed in county court by State's Attorney K. C. Ronalds.

U. S. Army Compounds Under Seige By Demonstrating South Koreans

SEOUL, Korea —U. S. Army compounds in four major cities were under near-siege today because of violence demonstrations by South Koreans against the neutral nations truce inspectors.

In Pusan, more than 2,000 screaming Koreans ripped down the main gate to the U. S. Army's Hialeah compound where Sunday they formed a bloody, human bridge through 400 feet of barbed wire.

The U. S. Army denied Korean reports that American soldiers had bayoneted some of the demonstrators at Pusan and Inchon.

The 8th Army said at least four soldiers were injured Sunday and six more Americans were hurt today when Koreans threw stones and bottles.

Gas-masked GIs had to toss 200 tear gas bombs into the mob and drench it with heavy streams of water from fire hoses before the demonstration was quieted.

Some 5,000 demonstrators marched on the U. S. Army compound at Taegu Sunday and a live hand grenade was tossed through the fence to a Korean employee. The Army said the employee turned the unexploded grenade over to a soldier.

Besides Pusan, U. S. compounds at Wolmi-Do Island at Inchon and at the port cities of Kunsan and Hangnung were surrounded today.

Many of the demonstrators carried banners and shouted for the removal of the neutral nations truce inspectors, who act as watchdogs of the uneasy Korean armistice.

The outbreaks were the latest in a series of demonstrations against the Neutral Nations Commission whose Czech and Polish members the South Korean government has accused of being Communist spies.

The demonstrators were protesting that Americans are defending the Czech and Polish members of the commission as well as Swiss and Swedish members.

County Fair Board Reports Best Attendance

The board of directors of the Saline County Agricultural Fair association which annually stages the Saline county fair said the fair held last week was the best attended in the ten years it has been in charge.

"The board wishes to announce the most successful fair yet," the announcement said. "We believe we have hit the key on what the people want to see. Our total attendance was the highest it has been since we have been staging the Saline county fairs."

A voice of thanks to the public was given by the board, which pointed out that next year will be the 50th annual fair and that a huge Fiftieth anniversary fair, the biggest yet, is being planned.

This year there were six night events and two afternoons of entertainment. The fair started with Sunday afternoon and evening performances of the Duke of Paducah and Carl Smith troupe. The western horse show was Monday night, the dog racing Tuesday night, the Hell Drivers Wednesday night, the Holter animal show Thursday afternoon and night and the beauty pageant and auto show Friday evening.

There was no horse racing this year, and only one night of horse show.

Too Early to Predict Storm To Hit Seaboard

Marine Corps
Orders Planes
Moved Inland

MIAMI (AP) — A giant hurricane spewing winds of 135 miles an hour churned the ocean about 500 miles off the Atlantic seaboard today.

Weather Bureau officials, noting that Hurricane "Connie" has been gradually swinging toward the north for the past several days, said it was too early to predict where or whether the dangerous storm would hit the U. S. mainland.

The Marine Corps took the hurricane seriously, however. Its planes were ordered to fly from the Cherry Point Marine Air Station in eastern North Carolina to safer spots inland.

A noon advisory issued by the Miami Weather Bureau placed the hurricane about 500 miles off West Palm Beach, Fla. By that hour a further swing to the north had been noted and the direction was north-northwest or north.

Hurricane winds swirled outward 100 miles to the north and east of the storm center and 50 miles to the southwest. Gales were noted 350 miles to the north and east and 150 miles to the southwest.

Measured on Radar Screen
A Navy hurricane hunter plane measured Connie's placid central eye on a radar screen and estimated it was 40 miles across. The Weather Bureau said indications were that the hurricane had reached its maximum intensity.

Small craft warnings were ordered up as far north as Block Island, R. I., and south to Cape Hatteras, N. C. Small craft was cautioned to stay in port as far south as Jacksonville, Fla., because of high seas.

The year's first real hurricane wheeled past the Bahamas. So far there has been no reported damage as it has been over open water all the time.

Reconnaissance aircraft flying in relays kept a 24-hour watch on the vast disturbance covering a circular area of hundreds of square miles around a calm "eye" in the center.

Lt. J. G. J. F. Carney, an aerologist of Lawrence, Mass., said he flew into all the big 1954 hurricanes and Connie is as "bad as any storm that developed last year, including Hazel and Carol."

Carney, who helped plot the hurricane's course aboard a Navy plane from Jacksonville, Fla., said Connie was well-defined, presenting "a perfect doughnut" on his radar screen. He said its "eye" had tightened from a 50-mile diameter to one of about 33 miles.

Lt. Cmdr. K. J. MacKey of Albany, N. Y., captain of the plane, said the tempest was a solid sheet of storm from the edge of the eye to its outer reaches.

Mrs. Cy Cable, 43, Near Galatia, Dies

Mrs. Cy (Margaret) Cable, 43, who resided on Galatia RFD 1, died Sunday at 10:30 a. m. in the Ferrell hospital where she had been for four days.

The body now lies in state at the Martin funeral home in Eldorado awaiting completion of funeral plans.

Besides her husband she leaves her mother, Mrs. Mary Hazley, Harrisburg, and the following brothers and sisters: John A. and Francis A. Hazley, both of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Leroy (Thelma) Hartwick, Alton, and Andrew Hazley, Mrs. Charles (Elizabeth) Betz, Mrs. Jo (Mary) Durant, Mrs. Talbot (Helen) Syers, all of Harrisburg.

She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star of Fort Morgan, Colo., and the Order of White Shrine of West Frankfort.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Ike Administration Fires Another Negro; Lobbyists Ran Wild In Washington; Natural Gas Lobby Planned Its Operations Like A Military Campaign.

WASHINGTON. — While President Eisenhower talks about being the great friend of the Negro, his top officials seem to make it a practice to fire prominent Negroes. Another Negro adviser, Dr. Frank Horne, has just been fired from the Federal Housing Administration after 18 years of government service, after he disagreed with housing administrator Cole on segregation.

Cole has been arguing that Negroes should not press for integration on federal housing projects now, regardless of the Supreme Court decree against segregation. Dr. Horne has disagreed. So the other day, despite his 18 years in government, Horne got his walking papers, effective August 31. The official reason given was "budget trouble." Real fact, however, is that the housing administration has more money today than ever, and is hiring new people.

Meanwhile Mrs. Jane Morrow Spaulding, named the "Negro Woman of the year," fired by Mrs. Hobby after she urged the abolition of segregation in schools on military posts, is still at loose ends. What Washington needs more than anything else today is a good investigation of lobbying. Lobbyists ran wild in the recent session of the 84th Congress. They also ran the Congress. They were bold, blunt, brazen in their demands that congressmen vote this way and vote that. They didn't even bother to disguise their dictatorship.

Their efforts varied from the crude gymnastics of ex-Congressman Roy Clippinger, Republican of Illinois, who wanted to prevent the investigation of a toll bridge over the Wabash river, to the multi-million dollar efforts of the natural gas lobby.

And since the Congress is not likely to probe the way its own members were lobbied, at least not in the present big business atmosphere that pervades Washington, this column will attempt to do some probing. Let's begin with the two above mentioned lobbies.

The lobbying of ex-Congressman Clippinger can be described in a few words. The gas lobby's activities would take more space than is available to the average newspaper.

Clippinger is the manager of a toll bridge between Illinois and Indiana and didn't want Congress to investigate what disposition had been made of $5,000,000 collected in tolls since 1942. A congressional committee headed by Congressman Denton of Indiana is now looking into this.

So Clippinger, who as a former member of Congress has the right to appear on the House floor, frantically darted from congressman to congressman during debate trying to prevent the probe of the bridge which he manages. He was not successful. Finally Joe Martin told him politely to leave the floor.

GAS LOBBY
The natural gas lobby at times was more devious, also more effective. It had at its disposal a slush fund of $1,500,000 and it operated both in the grass roots and by direct contribution to the political campaigns of senators and congressmen.

For instance, Senator John Butler of Maryland, Republican, who at first planned to introduce the bill exempting natural gas from federal regulation, had received $10,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Clint Murchison, the big Texas gas-oil tycoon, during his election campaign. He also received $5,000 from Jack Porter of Texas.

Governors Tag Money and Roads as Most Pressing Problems for Conference

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's governors today tagged money and roads as two of their most pressing problems.

On the eve of the 47th annual governors' conference, a United Press survey showed that state finances and highway construction and safety ranked high on the list of state governors' headaches. What to do about prison riots, water shortages, school segregation, a uranium boom and juvenile delinquency also plagued the chief executives.

Governors began arriving during the week end for the conference, which Illinois will host for the first time. It opens Tuesday with a meeting of the executive committee, but the first business session isn't on tap until Wednesday.

Most governors polled by the U. P. in advance of the conference named finances as a major problem—and most of them tied up that subject with activities of the federal government.

Shivers Tells Views
Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas said that when the federal government takes over revenue sources, it "cripples" state and local governments.

"First, the federal government takes over fields of taxation so the state and local governments can not raise sufficient revenue," he said. "Then, it takes over functions under the guise that state and local governments won't do the job."

"The state should and could take care of highways, schools and many other functions, if we could get the proper separation of powers and fields of taxation," Shivers said.

Utah's J. Bracken Lee said the state's problem is how to provide needed services without higher tax-

CHRYSLER'S giant expansion program brings you the greatest new car buying opportunity of the year!

Because of the unprecedented demand for its 1955 models, currently up to a new record high, Chrysler has had to undertake a Giant Plant Expansion Program. When in full production the new plant will provide a 40 per cent increase in Chrysler Windsor V-8 and New Yorker output.

Knowing that building operations would take several months, we have tried to provide enough 1955 Chrysler Windsor V-8's and New Yorkers to meet the demands of our customers through the season. This meant filling our entire year's supply right now in mid-season.

You Get Year's Widest Selection of Models and Color Combinations

Since we tried to anticipate your needs, we can show you a wide selection of color combinations and body styles, but our supply will never again be as great as it is right now! Indications are that there just will not be enough of all models and body styles to go around.

Your present car will never be worth more in trade

Remember that fact! Right now your present car is worth more in trade than it ever will be again.

And we can allow you more for it than anybody else in town. That's not just talk. There's a good reason for it.

We Need Used Cars

When these new cars are gone, we'll be hungrier than ever for used cars. That's right—as these wonderful new Chrysler buys move out we will be needing more and more late model used cars. That's a double reason for you to trade for a brand new Chrysler beauty right now. You have the year's finest selection of the popular 1955 Chrysler... and, we're in a real trading mood to get our used car stocks in shape.

Take the 100-Million-Dollar Ride Today!

If you've been holding off on buying your new 1955 Chrysler Windsor V-8 or New Yorker, if you've delayed for any reason, better act now.

Because when our present stock of new cars is gone, we can't get any more!

So, come in today. Experience the thrill of the 100-Million-Dollar Ride... the ride all America is talking about. It will be the smartest new car buy of your life!

All Chrysler Cars are V-8's... with the most powerful type of V-8 engine on the road!

MISS EVA JANETTE ROPER, whose interest in the Springfield Municipal opera dates back to its first year of production, chats with Edna Nicholas outside "Neeld hall," wardrobe headquarters backstage at the opera.

In the current opera, "Annie Get Your Gun," Miss Roper plays the part of Sylvia Potter Porter, who is interested in the handsome sharpshooter, Frank Butler, star of Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show. Nicholas is cast as Butler in the Irving Berlin Musical comedy.

Miss Roper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christy C. Roper of Carrier Mills, now residing in Springfield, is an art instructor in the Springfield Public school system. In addition to participating in the singing ensembles of the opera each season, she has devoted her artistic talent to the work of the construction crew in painting scenery.

Both Miss Roper and Nicholas are in costume for scene 2 of the second act of "Annie Get Your Gun," a gala event at the Hotel Brevoort in New York. One of the spectacular numbers of the show, "I've Got the Sun in the Morning," is a feature of this scene.

Other operas in which Miss Roper has participated this season are "Kiss Me Kate" and "New Moon."

Five days of class periods and evenings of inspirational messages, choir and orchestra rehearsals were climaxed Friday evening with the festival concert presented at the Walnut Street Baptist church, with a large congregation to hear the 80 voice choir under the direction of Dr. C. Tariff Commission To Study Fluorspar, Rep. Gray Announces Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) of the 25th District today announced that public hearings will be held to investigate the effect foreign importation of acid grade fluorspar is having upon the ailing fluorspar industry in the United States. The investigation will be conducted by the U. S. Tariff Commission under section 7, Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951, as amended.

Gray said the fluorspar industry has been suffering from the foreign importation of fluorspar produced in Mexico and other countries, due to cheap labor. Gray said over 50% of all domestic fluorspar is produced in southern Illinois, mostly in Hardin county. He said the cheap imported fluorspar has displaced hundreds of American workers and that he was hopeful the Tariff Commission would take action to recommend to the President that the tariffs on imported fluorspar be adjusted upward in order to stop this unfair cut-throat competition. Gray said the Government has been sitting idly by and letting this important industry "die on the vine."

Marilyn Monroe Kisses 70-Year-Old Beard Growing Champ

BEMENT, Ill. (AP) — Bement's centennial celebration was enlivened by a weekend visit by Marilyn Monroe, who kissed a 70-year-old beard-growing champion.

Miss Monroe missed a plane connection in Chicago and arrived here three hours late Saturday night, traveling the last 30 miles in a sheriff's car.

She told an audience of 20,000 at the high school athletic field that Abraham Lincoln, a native of this area, "represented a father to me."

"But I guess he does to everyone in the country," she said.

Wearing a tight-fitting green dress, she kissed W. G. Porter, grand champion of the centennial beard growers.

Porter told newsmen it was "mighty nice."

"No comparison to the girls I kissed as a boy," he said.

What to Do?

A Let-Down

Bulganin Says He Has Hopes Of Visiting U. S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin by-passed protocol Sunday and expressed hope of sometime visiting the United States.

He made the statement in reply to questions at a gala 5 1/2 hour party at his summer estate for the Moscow diplomatic corps—the first such frolic ever given in the 37-year history of Communist Russia.

His expression of hope was considered surprising and significant since Soviet leaders have usually parried such questions with the protocol reply that visits depended first of all on invitations.

Bulganin entertained about 230 foreign diplomats, their wives and children at his dacha, or summer house, 60 miles south of Moscow. The precedent-shattering party was held on the 250-acre estate which was once the property of Count Orlov, a favorite lover of Catherine the Great.

Top party and government leaders and foreign newsmen were present for the party at which Russia's leaders folk danced, boat raced, and gambled in the countryside.

The question of a visit to the United States arose during a conversation about his visit to Britain next spring. Bulganin was asked if he had any plans for a visit to Washington or had received an invitation.

"I have no plans or invitation," Bulganin said, "but I hope that sometime it will be brought about."

The gay party was marked by such scenes as Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov rowing Argentine Ambassador Leopoldo Bravo and the wife of the Indonesian Ambassador Subandrio in a rowboat around one of the many lakes.

Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan staged a boat race with U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen and

To Consider Union Demands by Metropolis Power Plant Workers

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—The Metropolis City Council is expected to consider demands for union recognition by striking city power plant employees at its meeting tonight.

The plant employees walked off their jobs last Wednesday over City Council refusal to recognize the International Union of Operating Engineers as their bargaining agent.

The council had granted the employees all they asked in a union contract, but did not recognize the union.

Skeleton crews have been permitted to cross picket lines at the plant to maintain service to the municipal utility's customers.

Earlier Mikoyan rowed Mrs. Bohlen and Bohlen's 15-year-old daughter Avis around a lake.

Chandler Holds Safe Lead in Kentucky Vote

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP)—Returns trickling in slowly from Kentucky's mountain counties today cut slightly into A. B. (Happy) Chandler's lead in the Democratic gubernatorial primary, but the former gubernatorial commissioner appeared to have a safe lead in his resounding political comeback.

With 2,226 of the state's 4,165 precincts counted, as tabulation resumed today, Chandler's lead stood at 13,547 votes. The totals showed 162,254 for Chandler; 148,707 for administration candidate Bert T. Combs.

Chandler Campaign Manager Joseph J. Leary claimed victory at Sunday and said the former governor and senator would win by 25,000 to 30,000 votes. The Louisville Courier-Journal, which opposed Chandler, conceded his victory in its early editions.

Combs supporters had not quite given up hope, believing that late returns from slow-counting districts of eastern Kentucky where Combs is strong would cut into the Chandler lead.

It was a personal triumph for Chandler, as he upset a state Democratic organization headed by U. S. Sen. Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.) and Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby, who has been in power for eight years.

In addition, Chandler was opposed by Sen. Alben W. Barkley, who in a last-minute campaign speech Thursday night all but threw his support to the Democratic Party, accusing him of bolting the party on numerous occasions.

Chandler will be opposed in the general election by Edwin R. Denney of Lexington, former U. S. district attorney who held a five to one lead over James L. Clay in the Republican gubernatorial primary.

Hollywood to Pay Final Respects To Suzan Ball

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hundreds of Hollywood personalities are expected Tuesday to pay their final respects to Suzan Ball, 22-year-old actress who fought a gallant but losing battle against cancer.

Many of the same personalities Sunday night attended rosary for Carmen Miranda, who died of a heart attack Friday about 12 hours before Miss Ball succumbed.

Miss Ball's body will lie in state from noon to 3 p. m. EDT at the Church of the Recessional in Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale.

Dr. Louis H. Evans, former minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Hollywood, will conduct services.

The rosary for Miss Miranda was recited at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills. The Brazilian government is making arrangements to fly her body to Brazil on Wednesday for burial.

AEC Gives Go-Ahead For Negotiations to Build Two Power Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission today gave the go-ahead for negotiations with two power groups for construction of two atomic power plants.

The AEC turned down proposals submitted by two other groups as not acceptable as bases for negotiation. However, it authorized discussions in their cases to determine whether the proposals could be changed so negotiations could be undertaken.

The commission authorized negotiations with the Detroit Edison Co. and Associates and with the Nuclear Power Group led by Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago.

Woman Gets Suspended Sentence for Urging Draft Dodging

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Miller, 44-year-old mother convicted of advising youths to dodge the draft, was given a suspended two-year penitentiary sentence in U. S. District Court today.

Mrs. Miller was convicted on two indictments of nine counts each. Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson sentenced her to a year and a day and placed her on one year probation for five years on each indictment.

Mrs. Miller said she would appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court. Her husband, Manuel, 47, a justice of the peace, was to be sentenced later today on a charge of obstructing U. S. marshals.

The Constitution of the United States was signed on Sept. 7, 1787.

Storms Break Scorching Heat; Kill At Least 12

By United Press
Thundershowers broke the back of a scorching heat wave in the East today. But the price was high.

Accompanying storms killed at least 12 persons, terrorized coastal dwellers and cut power lines.

In Albuquerque, N. M., meanwhile, heavy rains sent flash floods into residential lowlands and chased 25 persons from their homes. The residents were still digging out from under a million-dollar flood which struck when similar rains fell last week.

The cool air spread southeastward into New England, the Middle Atlantic states and fringes of the Deep South.

Temperatures dropped from 10 to 20 degrees from the northern plains to as far south as the Carolinas and the northern portions of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. But in the Southeast, leery coastal residents kept a close watch on hurricane "Connie," which was moving west-northwest past the British West Indies.

The cool air brought the first decent "sleeping" weather Sunday night to the Midwest and East in weeks.

Thundershowers killed at least three persons at Newark, N. J., and lightning killed a 23-year-old golfer at Mamaroneck, N. Y.

At Wollaboro, N. H., County Judge William E. Fuller, 57, Fall River, Mass., was killed when struck by a bolt of lightning as he camped in a tent.

Lightning also struck a bookstore on the University of Maine campus at Orono, causing a $75,000 fire, including destruction to $65,000 worth of textbooks stocked for the fall semester.

In New York City, lightning hit the cornice of a 10-story building and showered bricks and mortar into the street. No one was hurt.

For a cool supper serve a salad. Cold meat, cucumber rings, tomato wedges and carrot strips with fresh finely shredded cabbage combine to make a pleasant, hot-weather meal. Add a tangy blue cheese dressing and make it perfect.

Fresh fruit salads make an appealing plate for hot weather days. For an extra taste treat, garnish the salad with balls of plain cream cheese rolled in finely chopped nuts or watercress.

BIG LEAGUE WAY

Tight Pennant Races Grease Chute for Men Who Win Them

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—With the American League heading toward the kind of last-ditch finish which could force five teams to have World Series tickets printed and ready for sale, there is more for the players involved to worry about than the day-by-day standings.

That would be the record book, which shows what happened to several important figures after thrilling races.

Through the past 10 years, you see, there has been a definite pattern of trouble for the guy who delivered the stand-up-and-cheer play that brought a pennant.

Gene Bearden stands as the best example. It was Bearden, you'll remember, who won the only play-off game in American League history, defeating the Red Sox in 1948.

The left-hander had a 20-7 mark for the Indians.

Bearden's knuckler didn't allow the Braves a run in 10 2-3 innings of the World Series.

He was a 28-year-old who seemed to have a long and illustrious career ahead of him.

But the next season, Bearden was whacked all over the American League. He finished with an 8-8 mark and was busily sliding out of sight from then on.

"Nothing went right once the Series ended," Gene moaned.

Bearden keynotes the headaches which descend, immediately and almost en masse, on the brightest luminaries of close pennant finishes.

The same season in which Bearden starred, the Braves, then in Boston, were making their way through a treacherous National League race with the slogan: "Spahn and Sain and pray for rain."

Right-hander Johnny Sain was a 24-game winner for the Braves, had a 1-1 record in the World Series. The next season, Sain crashed to a 10-17 record.

Bobby Thomson, whose now legendary home run beat Brooklyn in the final play-off game in 1951, was believed to have arrived as a star of the first magnitude.

But Thomson, now a pinch-hitter for Milwaukee, never reached the same heights again. After The Homer, in fact, the Scot was just another right-handed hitting outfielder and a broken ankle in spring training in 1954 cut his effectiveness in half.

Another homer-hitting star, Dick Sisler of the Phillies, went the same way. In the 10th inning of the season's finale in 1950, Sisler sliced a homer into the left field corner at Ebbets Field to beat the Dodgers.

The next season, Sisler, who had hit 296 and knocked in 83 runs, fell off considerably and was traded.

So, while these one game heroics are great while the fame lasts, they seem to turn into a revolving door which ushers the guy from limelight to street lights outside.

College Stars Believe They Can Beat Browns

By United Press
The College All-Stars, with the toughest part of their training grind behind them, honestly feel they can beat professional football's champion Cleveland Browns in the annual classic in Chicago's Soldiers Field Friday night.

For the first time since 1950, the All-Stars will go into the game without a serious injury and in fact, Trainer Carl Erickson has assured Coach Curly Lambeau, a mentor in the National Football League for many years, that every member of the 49-man squad will be ready to play.

Lambeau is confident the Stars will give Cleveland a real fight, but he won't go out on a limb and predict victory. Curly, disturbed by the excessive heat which his squad has had to drill in the past two weeks, plans to let the boys take things "easy" this week and will emphasize fundamentals and chalk sessions.

Browns Finish Training
Meanwhile, the Browns have just about completed training in their camp at Hiram, Ohio, and are expected to reach Chicago during the middle of the week for a final tune-up.

The San Francisco Forty Niners got their exhibition schedule under way Sunday with a crowd of 27,237 on hand in Kezar Stadium. The Forty Niners, paced by the passing of Y. A. Tittle and the running of John Henry Johnson, downed the Washington Redskins, 7-6.

It took San Francisco nine plays to score in the opening minutes of the second half with Tittle bucking over from the one-yard line for the score. Johnson carried six of the nine times to set it up and Gordie Soltau converted what proved to be the winning point.

Vic Janowicz provided all the Washington scoring on a pair of first half field goals, the first from the 16-yard line in the opening period and the second from the 27 in the second period. Janowicz missed a chance to give the Skins the victory when his attempt from the 10 with a minute left to play in the game was batted down.

Rams Outlast Steelers
On Saturday night, the Los Angeles Rams and the Pittsburgh Steelers put on a high-scoring exhibition in Portland, Ore., with the Rams outlasting the Steelers, 35-24.

The Rams moved in front late in the third period, 21-17, and then wrapped it up with a pair of touchdowns in the final quarter. Bob Boyd and Tank Younger each scored two touchdowns for the winners.

Elsewhere, the Baltimore Colts enjoyed an off day but the club's five-man coaching squad journeyed to Hershey, Pa., to watch the Philadelphia Eagles, whom they meet in an exhibition game next Saturday, in an intra-squad game, while at Lake Forest, Ill., where the Chicago Cardinals are in training.

Jackle Bruce Schwager of Kings Point, N. Y., finally showed up leaving only two players, rookie tackle Chick Fry of Maryland and Glen Nagler of Santa Clara, unaccounted for.

Red Sox Gain as White Sox, Orioles Tie; Yankees, Tigers Split; Indians Lose

By United Press

The fired-up Red Sox had it all figured out today how they can smoke out the White Sox from first place in the American League by using the Yankees as convenient kindling wood within the next few days.

Mike Higgins' Red Sox were the only first division club in the league to gain ground Sunday, climbing to within 1 1/2 games of the top by defeating the Athletics, 16-12, with the aid of Ted Williams' 1,999th base hit of his colorful career.

The Red Sox launch a three-game series in New York Tuesday night and Higgins has Yankee-killer Willard Nixon all set to shoot at the bucking Bronx Bombers. Williams also will be shooting for his 2,000th hit and by the time the dust clears following the series, Boston may have succeeded in loosening Chicago's death-like hold on first place.

Coming from behind Sunday, the White Sox grimly held on to the lead by battling the last-place Orioles to a 2-2 tie before rain called the game in the 13th inning. The rain also washed out a scheduled second game.

Yankees, Detroit Split

The Yankees missed a chance to take over first place and fell three percentage points behind by splitting a doubleheader with the Tigers. Detroit won the opener, 4-2, but dropped the nightcap, 3-2, when Mickey Mantle hit his second homer of the game and 26th of the season in the 10th inning off Babe Birner.

Cleveland also missed an opportunity to move into first place by losing to Washington for the third straight time, 9-3. The second game of a scheduled twin-bill was postponed by rain.

Sports Briefs

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex. — Nashua is beginning to get more play in the Caliente future book for his match race with Kentucky Derby winner Swaps at Chicago's Washington Park, Aug. 31. Swaps remains a heavy 1-2 choice while Nashua is being quoted at 3-2.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Manager Harry Walker of the St. Louis Cardinals stepped into the team's regular lineup Sunday in a vain effort to end the Cards' losing ways. Walker, playing left field, had one hit in five at-bats as the Cards went down to their ninth loss in the last 10 games, 9-6, to the Phillies. His hit was a double that sparked a four-run rally in the seventh inning.

CINCINNATI — The streak of consecutive games played compiled by shortstop Roy McMillan of the Cincinnati Reds has been snapped at 584 because of a sprained thumb.

McMillan, sidelined by the injury, kept the streak intact by appearing in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader with the Giants as a pinchhitter, but failed to appear in the second game.

McMillan began the streak in the final 11 games of the 1951 season. The National League record for consecutive games played is 822, set by Gus Suhr of Pittsburgh from 1931 through 1937.

There now are 180 million acres in national forest lands.

Sunflowers Do Not Turn With the Sun!

This is a very popular fallacy, arising perhaps from mythology. According to the myth, Clytie, daughter of Oceanus, became enamored of Sol, the Sun. Later, when he despised her, she pined away in sorrow, and was finally changed into a sunflower. 1. Chambers Encyclopedia, 2. Encyclopedia Britannica — 11th Edition, 3. When it comes to Protection ... it pays to have the BEST

A sudden vicious attack holds no terrors for this resourceful postman. But he'd be whistling a different tune if he'd left his stout protectors home.

Dependable insurance is like that, too. It's one thing you can't buy when you need it most. After an accident or loss has occurred, it's too late to get better insurance if the policy you have proves unsatisfactory.

So don't gamble with "cheap" insurance. Buy only the BEST — and buy it today.

Russia Reports Deaths of 25 In Plane Crash

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet Union offered "profound regret" and compensation today to Norway for the deaths of 10 Norwegian women among 25 persons killed in the landing crash of a Soviet airliner.

The Soviet news agency Tass, on the first time in recent history, reported the news of the crash on a flight from Stalingrad to Moscow, said like western news agencies.

The Il'yushin 14 airliner "caught fire in the air 12 kilometers (seven miles) from Voronezh and exploded on crashing" Saturday, the Tass report said.

Moscow Radio, which rarely broadcasts such domestic news, carried the dispatch to the world.

Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin summoned Norwegian Charge d'Affaires Per Borgen from Sunday's picnic at the summer residence of Premier Georgi Bulganin to inform him of the crash.

Zorin handed Borgen an official government note expressing "profound regret" at the accident and promising to compensate families of the women who were visiting Russia as a touring delegation.

Zorin added his own personal sympathies to the official note. The government appointed a very high official, Deputy Premier M. V. Khromachev himself to head an on-the-spot investigation of the crash.

Zorin told Borgen the cause was "undetermined."

his fire.
The man stopped shooting.

Shayne was too late. In the glare of the searchlight mounted on the second car, their quarry was seen to stagger just on the fringe of the underbrush, plunge forward on his belly and wriggle convulsively a couple of times.

He had stopped wriggling by the time Michael Shayne reached his body. The redhead straightened to glare at the two police officers who came trotting up with drawn guns.

"Blundering idiots!" Shayne shouted hoarsely. "I'd have had him alive in one more second. Now he's dead. Of all the fast-triggered..."

"Shut up, Mike!" One of the officers was the same Sergeant Loftus whom Shayne had encountered earlier in front of Lucy's apartment. "I ordered Powell to shoot. How were we to know you were in the cab waiting to grab him? If we'd known you were there, we'd let you have him. But when we saw him escaping..."

He shrugged and knelt beside the body, rolled him over on his back and nodded somberly as he put his head down to listen for a heartbeat that wasn't there.

"Dead, all right," he announced unnecessarily, since half the side of the man's head was torn off with a soft-nosed slug. "Know who he is, Mike?"

"Never saw him before," Shayne was breathing heavily, knotting big fists in an effort to control his futile anger at this outcome of his carefully prepared trap. "I think, though," he went on harshly, "you'll find out he's one of your pals from New Orleans. Detective First Class Mark Switzer, to be exact."

"Yes," muttered Loftus defensively, spreading back the gray coat to go through the dead man's pockets. "Chief said something about a New Orleans cop maybe going bad."

He rocked back on his heels with a wallet, flipped it open and nodded soberly. "Here's his identification. He deserved killing, Mike. When a cop does turn wrong..."

Mike Shayne snarled a reply from his teeth. "But he's got Lucy Hamilton somewhere. And probably another innocent girl he kidnapped in New Orleans and brought here. All I wanted was two minutes alone with him. That's why I didn't tell you cops what I was planning. I knew you'd interfere. And now you did interfere. And now he'll never talk to me or anybody else."

"Tough about Lucy," said Sergeant Loftus gruffly. He began to explore the other pockets in the dead man's gray suit, came up with a folded sheet of paper which he opened and read carefully in the searchlight glare.

He looked up at Shayne with a troubled expression as he finished reading it, hesitated momentarily, then passed it to the angry detective, saying, "Guess this is meant for you."

It was a letter signed by Lucy Hamilton.

Ford Sets Up Fund To Award Prizes For Peaceful A-Uses

DETROIT (UP)—Ford Motor Co. has decided to set up a one-million dollar fund to pay prizes to scientists who contribute the most each year to peaceful atomic uses, it was announced today.

The one million dollars will be a memorial to Henry Ford and Edsel Ford.

The company said it was setting up the fund in response to President Eisenhower's expressed hope that "private business and professional men throughout the world will provide an incentive in finding new ways that this science will be used... for the benefit of mankind and not for destruction."

Ford made the offer to set up the plan to Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, who agreed to announce the plan at Geneva at the international conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy.
